RURAL ELECTRIFICATION TO ASSIST WITH PLANS FOR ELECTRIC SHOW

Utilization Division Set Up To Explain Many Uses Of Electricity—Officials Attending Meeting Held in Bay St. Louis—Miss Mary Alice Willis, REA Home Electrification Specialist to Visit.

At a regular meeting of the Board of Directors of the Hancock Electric Power Association held Wednesday, July 28, in Mr. R. L. Genin's office, Mr. Harold F. Clark, Utilization Division of REA, with headquarters in Birmingham, Alabama, and Mr. James R. Cobb, Agricultural Engineer, REA, explained the necessity and advantages of having a general educational program here soon to encourage load-building on the lines that will soon be under construction in Hancock and Pearl River counties. Miss Mary Alice Willis, REA Home Electrification Specialist, will be available to come here and conduct a complete demonstration of all kinds of electrical appliances.

Mr. Clark explained that in many places where similar projects are under construction, and in some instances where lines have been completed and energized, that house wiring progress has been slow. It has also been noticed that a large percentage of the wiring being done is not adequate to take care of the many electrical devices and appliances that will soon find their way into the customers' homes. In discussing plans for having an Electrical Show here, it was brought out that much stress will be given to wiring and lighting fixtures. Houses should be wired properly, not only for safety reasons, but for the future years, when many appliances will be used. If houses are wired with wire sizes too small, the voltage will be reduced to a point where electrical appliances cannot operate efficiently. Emphasis will also be given to lighting fixtures, and it is hoped that many examples of good, low priced, shaded lighting fixtures can be shown here. The many uses of electricity will be explained, and the cost of operating and purchasing various appliances will be brought out. It is hoped that the show will be of a cooperative nature, with local electrical dealers having displays. Mr. Edwin A. Bowman, Engineer, from the State Planning Commission, Jackson, Mississippi, also met with the Board to explain progress being made with engineering surveys. It is believed now, that bids will be asked for the construction of this project in about five or six weeks. Full plans will soon be announced about the Electrical Show.

MISSISSIPPI GULF COAST RESORTS TO BE ADVERTISED

State Advertising Commission to Meet at Biloxi to Plan Campaign.

The State Advertising Commission headed by Lt. Gov. J. B. Snider, chairman, met at the Buena Vista Hotel at Biloxi last week and laid plans for an advertising campaign featuring the Gulf Coast resort attractions.

The commission expects to expend approximately $10,000 in advertising resort and recreational centers of Mississippi, with emphasis on the Gulf coast section.

The advertising campaign will probably be delayed, however, until the state's new road program is more nearly complete, giving tourists paved roads from any direction to the coast section.

Enjoy Evening At Methodist Parsonage Have Candy Pulling

An enjoyable evening was held at the Methodist Parsonage by the young people who had served on the New Orleans Christian Advocate Committee during the year, with a few of their invited friends. An old-time candy pulling afforded the main entertainment. Music and games were also enjoyed by those present. Delicious refreshments of ice cream and cake were served by the hostess, Mrs. A. J. Boyles.

Those present were Misses Alice Vivian Evans, Nell Allison, Bessie Mitchell, Mr. C. J. Gordon, and also Mr. Glenn Goodwin of Jacksonville, Texas, a house-guest of Mrs. Boyles.

Pass Christian's New Fire House Nearing Completion

The new fire station at the corner of Second street and Clark avenue in Pass Christian is nearing completion. The building is small, but is of modern construction. The new well is located on the same lot. For several months the city forces has been busy connecting pipes to the new well.

TO REPRESENT MISSISSIPPI IN BEAUTY CONTEST AT BILOXI

MISS BOBBYE VAUGHN who will represent the Labor Day Beauty Show and Contests at Biloxi, Miss.

A Trip To The Projection Room of A. & G. Theater.

While audiences are watching the picture of the average theater little thought is given to the projection room or the man who is responsible for the operation of the motion picture machines which control the sound system and the perfect clearness of the picture on the screen.

The writer had the privilege one night this week to visit the projection room of the A. & G. Theater, where Mr. Charles Zerr is in charge. The room is scrupulously clean, having just been freshly painted in silver and black. A place for everything and everything in its place is the motto of this efficient operator.

There are two new projection machines, just two weeks old, and of the latest type. Modern to the last word, these machines may be termed the 1938 models.

Characteristic of the A. & G. the machines are of the best material and latest workmanship obtainable. In fact only one or two of these type are in use today.

Mr. Zerr is a congenial fellow and thoroughly explained how the machines operated and showed how the changes are made without interruption to the audience. Two reels are on one spool instead of one as heretofore. In making the change one machine is cut off and the other turned on with no indication being shown on the screen.

Sound control is handled from the ground floor by an attendant who signals Mr. Zerr with a buzzer, telling him whether it is too loud or too low, who regulates the sound control. Just a turn of a little gadget increases or decreases the tone. The operator has a loud speaker in his room but cannot judge the sound in the theater proper.

Built-in lockers and shelves provide ample room for tools, fire extinguishers, etc., which are unobscured by anyone entering the room. All these improvements are the work of Mr. Zerr.

Another added improvement is the men's dressing room which is now located on the upper stairway. The management of the A. & G. Theater are always making improvements for the betterment of patrons and can truly boast of one of the most modern and up-to-date motion picture houses on the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

BILOXI TO STAGE BEAUTY CONTEST ON LABOR DAY HOLIDAY

Huge Amphitheatre To Be Constructed to Handle Crowds.

Biloxi is making preparations for holding one of the most elaborate Beauty Shows and amateur contests ever undertaken in the South, when beauties from all parts of the country will be assembled here for the selection of "Miss United States." Virtually every state in the country will be represented by some beauties who have been selected after statewide contests.

Miss Bobbye Vaughn of Magnolia, has been selected to represent Mississippi. She is a vivacious brunette, 16 years old and is the talented daughter of Mrs. Grace Vaughn, and possesses all the grace and beauty for which Mississippi girls are noted. The Beauty Show will be staged under the direction of Bob Thompson, President of the All-States Beauty Show Features, Inc. Along with the title of "Miss United States" the winner will be given a trip to Hollywood where she will be given an opportunity to appear in motion pictures.

In preparation for the contest and to take care of the large crowds which are expected to attend the celebration, construction will be started next week on a huge amphitheatre which will be erected on Biloxi's beautiful new sand beach which recently was completed. The amphitheatre will have a seating capacity of 6,000 with a brilliantly decorated stage over the water, on which the beauties will pass in review.

The show will be held during Labor Day weekend.

Along with the beauty pageant, the finals of the National Amateur Contest will be held. The participants in this contest are those selected in contests held throughout the country during the past year. All of these entries were selected because of the unusual talents shown in their performances.

The entire coast is cooperating with Biloxi in making the event the greatest undertaking ever in the State.

NEGRO KILLED SUNDAY

Shot After Argument Over Stolen Watch and Meat—Dies at Hospital in Gulfport.

A shooting occurred Sunday afternoon at the "Red Camps" on the Old Spanish Trail and Waveland avenue, where Mr. Charles Zerr is in charge. The room is scrupulously clean, having just been freshly painted in silver and black. A place for everything and everything in its place is the motto of this efficient operator.

Something new: Representative Shannon of the Fifth Missouri District, now serving his fourth consecutive term, says he will retire because of disgust. "There is nothing as tiresome as sitting down and doing nothing," said the 70-year-old member.

MISSISSIPPI TO SHARE IN $50,000 FEDERAL GAME FUNDS AWARD

To Be Used For Erection, And Maintenance of Game Refuges, Sanctuaries, Breeding Grounds

Jackson, Miss.—The Mississippi Game Commission has been awarded $50,000 Federal funds for erection and maintenance of game refuges, sanctuaries and breeding grounds under a bill now before Congress. Col. Edgar W. Wright, state game and fish commissioner of Centerville, revealed today.

Under the program, the state would be required to put up 25 per cent of the amount, which could be supplied from monies received from sale of licenses by the State Game and Fish Commission.

The program would be handled by the United States Biological Survey, and based on the area involved and licenses sold this year, Mississippi's share of federal funds would be nearly $45,000, which would not include the state matching funds.

Approval of the bill was voted at the recent Nashville regional wildlife conference, attended by Col. Wright and Sir Corley, director of the state commission.

Ben M. Stevens of Richton, secretary of the state game and fish commission, has been named to a committee of the General Wildlife Federation, which is advocating passage of the measure. Commissioner Stevens attended the first wildlife meeting in St. Louis at which the program was outlined last year.

The State Game and Fish Commission now maintains about 35 game refuges in widely scattered sections of the state. There are about 250,000 acres included in the protected areas, on which the commission has placed many types of bird and animal life.

Discussions on the proposed federal legislation are planned at next week's meeting of the commission, to be held at Columbus, home of Col. Reuben R. Banks, northern district commissioner. Several matters affecting residents of the northeastern sector of the state are to come before the commission, and it was decided to hold the meeting at Columbus for that reason.

Other members of the commission are Chairman W. E. McIntyre of Brandon and George Weather's of Greenville.

Special hymns are being practiced by the choir to sing at the services. The boats will be anchored near the shore and will be blessed separately by Rev. Father Fahey.

Preventorium To Open At Sanatorium After Being Closed

Sanatorium, Miss.—The preventorium for children at the State Tuberculosis Sanatorium here will be opened immediately, according to Dr. Henry Boswell, superintendent. Closed last January because of insufficient operating funds, reopening of the children's unit was made possible by Governor Hugh L. White, who has authorized the necessary budget increase. Dr. Boswell's statement follows:

"We are happy to announce that the preventorium for the cure of underprivileged children admissible thereto will be opened within the next few days, thus giving such children a chance for a long and happy life. Preventorium treatment strikes at the foundation of the spread of the dead disease tuberculosis. It is through this work that the main institution is deprived of the patients we are happy to serve but whose appearance is a sad day because of the advanced state of their disease, and because all who are interested in the work know such tragedies could have been prevented.

"The fact that none of our preventorium children has ever developed active disease is evidence enough that this is the most sensible and economically valuable work our department of tuberculosis control is doing. The officials of the institution hope the people of Mississippi appreciate the action of the Governor in giving us permission to offer these children life and happiness. Admissions will begin August 10, and all who desire to send children should make immediate application."

Does His Bit For Local Hospital.

"Buzzie" Killen, 10-years-old, and who has been spending the summer at Bay St. Louis with his aunts the Misses Spool, says that everyone should help a good cause like the King's Daughters local hospital.

"Buzzie" likes to fish and whenever he makes a catch of fish or crabs he takes them to the hospital and has well supplied that institution with seafood this season. He has been doing this regularly and stated that was his idea of doing his bit.

Others might take example from "Buzzie's" act. There are other ways of helping and no other place is more deserving than the local hospital.

Record Crowds Hear New Priest at the Pass

The largest crowds that ever attended mass at Pass Christian were present Sunday at the three masses at St. Paul's Catholic Church, when Father Hayes, the new pastor, delivered his first sermon at that church.

At the first two masses the building was full and at the third mass all seats were filled. Of course at this season of the year many visitors are in town and the attendance is always larger.

MISS MARY MARSHALL IS GUEST

Of The Book Of The Hour Club To Review "Deep Summer"

"Deep Summer" by Given Brstown will be the next review of the Book of the Hour Club to be given Tuesday morning, August 10, at 10 o'clock, in the sun room of Hotel Reed. Miss Mary Elba Marshall will give the review. Miss Marshall has just returned from a year of study in the East, and her friends are anticipating her review with pleasure.

The library has recently received a gift of 17 books from Clover Nook, the home for the blind, in Cincinnati. These books are presented through the kindness of friends of Miss Crawford, the librarian. Quite often the library is sent these books. These 17 books would have cost the library $44.00 if they had been purchased.

Miss Lucile Perre is busy re-binding the books, as they have been separated so they can be copied in the Braille method. Miss Perre is doing commendable work as book binder for the library. She has started a class to teach young people the art of book-binding. This class meets every Monday morning at 9:30.

The county has given the library the lumber and labor for erecting new shelves. The library rooms look most complete with shelves reaching almost to the ceilings.

Miss Ruth Schreck has been assigned as assistant librarian to Miss Louise Crawford.

SEND DEED FOR ADDITIONAL LAND FOR FISH HATCHERY

Batson-Hatten Lumber Co. Increases Donation to 187 Acres For Project

A deed for 123 acres of land on which the Coast Counties Fish Hatchery is to be located, was sent to Washington, several days ago, together with drawings showing the location of the property. When the site was looked over by the authorities they concluded to ask for additional acreage that would extend the hatchery site to the I. C. R. R. on one side and the Biloxi River on the other side.

The deed was returned with the request for the additional land, which would make the entire plot 187 acres.

A new deed was made by the Batson-Hatten Lumber Company for the entire 187 acres and was sent back to Washington last Friday.

There is nothing now in the way of proceeding with the construction work on the project and as soon as the attorney general passes on the deed operations will begin, it was said. It will take probably two or three weeks, however, to get matters ready for construction to begin. The exact cost of the project has not, as yet, been estimated but it is believed that it will be about $100,000.

SPEAKS ON TIMELY SUBJECT

Luther N. Davis Guest of Rotary Club Gives Some Pointers on Social Security Act.

Luther N. Davis, Manager of the Social Security Board, with headquarters at Hattiesburg, was guest-speaker at the regular meeting of the Rotary Club Wednesday at Hotel Reed. He explained as much as time would permit the workings and benefits of the Social Security Program.

The speaker stated that the general conception of this plan, was that it was strictly unemployment compensation. He listed the benefits, showing there were eight besides that of unemployment compensation. They are as follows: 1. Old-age assistance. 2. Old-age Benefits. 3. Aid to the Blind. 4. Aid to cripple children. 5. Unemployment Compensation. 6. Public Health. 7. Maternal and children Welfare. 8. Vocational Rehabilitation. 9. Dependent children. This impresses one with the broad scope covered by this great humanitarian Act of Congress.

Mr. Davis listed the following as exempted under the law: Agriculture, Domestic servants, Employees of the Federal, State and County Governments, and some few special exemptions. Approximately 28,000,000 have enrolled in this vast program thru-out the United States up to date. He brought out that all employees participating in these benefits, would receive not less than 3 1/2 per cent of the total paid in by them. All responsibility rests entirely upon the employer, and not the employee. All employees under 65 years of age, regardless of how young they maybe or subject to social security tax of 1 per cent. The employer is required to remit 1 per cent on the total paid out for labor. This program is handled by the Federal government, and has no connection whatsoever with the state unemployment activities.

Mr. Davis stated that he stands ready to assist and co-operate in every way possible in the administration of his agency.

Cotton Grown at Hammer Waveland Home Begins to Open

Probably the first cotton to be open in Hancock county was grown by George Hammer of Waveland. The first bolls were open on July 24, which is a very early date for Mississippi cotton.

Of course, Mr. Hammer is not a cotton farmer and hasn't a regular crop, but only several dozen stalks of the long staple variety, the seeds of which he obtained from the Mississippi State College experiment station farm while visiting the college last September.

Mr. Hammer whose hobby is gardening is a daily commuter to New Orleans, being engaged in the insurance business in that city. It is his opinion that large crops of cotton could be grown in this county with as little trouble as in the cotton belts of Mississippi.

IS COLLEGE FOOTBALL FAILING?

FOOTBALL has come to be almost the excuse for the existence of some institutions and a winning eleven the aim and object of the alumni of many institutions.

In fact, given a winning gridiron season, the year has been classed a success by those operating some of the colleges and universities of the land.

With this general statement of the regard in which triumphant pigskin activities are held it comes as a surprise to hear that St. Mary's College, made famous by its football teams, which have travelled from one side of the continent to the other, has been sold at auction because of its inability to pay interest on a debt of $1,370,500 since 1934.

Incidentally, it is rumored that the college would be leased to its present management and that the football coach would be retained at a salary of $7,000 a year, plus ten per cent of the gridiron receipts. This shows that, after all, the college has not lost everything.

SCREEN TESTS.

THE screen tests recently made at the Gulf Theater, Waveland, were shown in pictures Tuesday and Wednesday nights. As explained before the tests were made no one was promised anything.

There were no prizes offered. The only reward for the five young children from three to fifteen years and the ten from fifteen to twenty-five years was that pictures would be taken and forwarded to Hollywood to be gone over by the directors there.

Regardless of anything else, the contestants gained experience and there is no telling but that one of the contestants may be selected for a movie career.

Those viewing the pictures of the contestants were interested as well as entertained by relatives, friends or acquaintances who were fortunate enough to be chosen for the screen tests.

Good luck to the contestants!

August is a great month for subscription payments—if subscribers know it.

THE GOVERNOR ON VACATION.

ON Saturday of last week, Governor and Mrs. White left Jackson for their home at Columbus, where they spent the week-end, and from there they went to Biloxi on Monday and established the Governor's office in that city during the month of August. They were joined there by the Governor's secretary, Mr. Jack Hancock, and Mrs. Hancock, and Misses Hilda Willison and Mary Frances Vollar of the executive office force. The Governor and his coast office force are domiciled at the Buena Vista Hotel. The executive offices in Jackson will be kept open at all times, however, by Mrs. Lena Wells and Miss Oma Lewis, and Governor White will keep in touch with his office in Jackson at all times, during his absence.

Denying that the search for Amelia Earhart and her navigator, Fred Noonan, had cost the Navy a large sum of money, President Roosevelt said that planes and ships would have done much the same work in the course of regular training.

FISHING COURTESY.

SEVERAL complaints have been heard and justly so, lately by local and visiting fishermen regarding the speed-boat "traffic hog." It appears that the streams hereabouts are infested with speed boat operators who are not fishermen or never have been, and who do not have any regard for others who enjoy the pleasures of that sport.

The least a man can do when he sees others fishing is to shut down his motor and coast by. Waves caused by the fast boats wash the shores, muddy the water and disturb the fish, making fly fishing and casting impossible for the time being.

Boat riding is a fine sport, it is admitted, but give the other fellow a break!

DECLARING WAR ON CANCER.

TO further research into the causes of cancer and to coordinate the efforts of those fighting the disease the Congress has appropriated $750,000 for a building in Washington to house a cancer institute and $700,000 a year for research work to be directed by an advisory council, to be composed of six doctors and scientists.

While this may be the beginning of other enterprises of like nature and thus the start of additional expenses on the part of government we do not believe that many people will object to it. In fact, the example might be followed with profit, both to the government and the people of the United States, in the battle against other diseases.

No recommendation will be made at this time for the building and operation of dirigibles by the Navy, according to Admiral Leahy, Chief of Naval Operations. Three Navy airships, the Shenandoah, the Akron and the Macon were destroyed in flight with heavy loss of life in disasters which overtook the first two.

HOT WEATHER AND ADJOURNMENT

THERE is the usual amount of newspaper propaganda put out of Washington when Congress is in session later in the summer about hot weather and the anxiety of the members to adjourn, according to Congressman Wm. M. Colmer in his column, Congressional Sidelights.

This propaganda is 95 per cent inspired by the newspaper writers themselves. They must have something to write about, and the weather is always resorted to when there is nothing else to write about. Most members of Congress, and certainly the Southern members, don't find the heat in Washington unbearable. As a matter of fact, with the exception of a few days, we have cooler weather here than you have now in Mississippi. Likewise, the talk that there is much anxiety among the members to adjourn is also newspaper "bunk." Members of Congress are like all other human beings. Naturally they would like to have a vacation. The families of most of them have gone home and they would like to join them. But the big majority of the membership of both houses of Congress is willing to stay on the job, summer heat notwithstanding, until it is finished. As a matter of fact, the membership does not decide the date of adjournment. This date is fixed by the President nine times out of ten with the Leadership of both houses. Many of us tire easily of this newspaper "bunk."

SHOULD WE BUILD BATTLESHIPS?

THE Italians are now building two 35,000-ton battleships, which will be the last word in naval construction for about a year after their completion, when they will be surpassed by newer ships.

France has two such giant battleships coming along. Great Britain is pushing work on others and Germany is understood to have one in process of building. News is that Japan may build as many as four battleships to augment her navy.

Under such conditions there are people who argue that the United States should disarm, leaving battleship building to other nations and trust to their peaceful intentions in regards to this hemisphere. Even if there is some doubt as to just how potent the peaceful intentions of Germany, Italy and Japan might be these cheerful ones insist that maybe Great Britain and France will protect us out of self-interest, if for no other reason.

We do not share the optimism of these pacific-minded brothers and sisters. The only thing that will make some nations respect the territory and rights of the United States is the power that this country may have to protect itself. We are strong for peace but the best way to insure it is to be able to make war unprofitable for those who might have an idea that they can find "pickings" on this side of the Atlantic ocean.

BOYS WHO ACT LIKE MEN.

THIS is the story of two little boys, whose parents loved them, and wondered why they fussed, quarrelled and fought each other so much.

Always, it seemed, the boys went at each other; never agreeing, they sought to settle things by fighting and as they were approximately evenly matched the battles were to the limit.

Time and again the father, or the mother, talked to the sons about getting along and how they should stick to each other and take life together in a stride of brotherly affection and mutual helpfulness.

Then one day the boys faced tragedy together; they were both in peril but each tried to save the other and, at last, both died with their arms around each other.

And the saddened parents came to realize, for the first time, that their boys were only growing and that underneath their fussing and fighting was burning brotherly love, which only showed in the midst of death itself.

What was true of these boys is also true of many older persons, whose hearts are stirred with intense love for their fellowmen but who never show it because, like the little boys, they are too busy fussing and fighting over things that really do not matter.

JUST A MINOR CAUSE OF DEATH.

STATISTICS reliably inform us that passengers on steam railroads are reasonably safe but that fifteen times every day, at grade crossings, which accidents occur one-third of the time result in death and average three persons injured.

In a month, it seems, some 170 Americans give up their existence because they either forget about trains and engines, or else can't see them. More than 500 are injured because because they occupy the rails when rolling stock has the right of way.

Trespassers, not included in the above figures, shuffle off their mortal coils at the rate of five a day while sleeping, walking and loafing between the iron ribbons which the engines use.

Americans, it seems, are a hardy race. We pay little or no attention to speeding automobiles every 24 hours and can hardly be expected to gape with astonishment as a minor cause of death that snuffs out only ten or twelve lives every time the sun rises.

SAVING LIVES.

SIMPLE everyday accidents in the home and on the farm took 35,000 lives last year, according to Lebert St. Clair, who says two precautions would reduce this death toll very much.

First, better lighting on dark stairways and places where people may stumble or hit things and, secondly, the floors should be "tidied up" by removing toys, strengthening rugs and placing objects against the wall, out of the way of people.

These are simple suggestions but they might save lives in this country if they are taken seriously.

Bay St. Louis will grow just as fast as its citizens make it grow and no faster.

WHAT THE PRESS IS SAYING OF MEN AND MATTERS IN EDITORIAL EXPRESSION

SALES TAX SHOULD BE DIVIDED
(Madison County Herald)

THERE is a move on by the Supervisors' Association to get the legislature to allow the cities and counties of the State to retain a certain percent of the sales tax money collected, which seems to be the right thing to do.

The state's financial condition is good. With many of the cities and counties it is just the opposite. Officials in these cities and counties feel that inasmuch as the money is collected in the cities and counties through sales made there, that they should be allowed a certain part of it in order to help pay off obligations that should have been paid long ago.

However, that proposal is going to cause a long, hard fight when it comes before the legislature for consideration. But we hope that the legislature will be gracious enough to see the justice of this proposal and divert part of the sales tax to the cities and counties where it is vitally needed.

IF you do, just keep your chin up and look out for balloons. When you see one, follow it to the ground and pick up an instrument contained therein and mail it to the Weather Bureau at Vicksburg, Miss. The Weather Bureau of the Agricultural Department at Washington has set up four stations in the United States and one of these has been located at Vicksburg. These instruments will record the antics of the storm. The Bureau offers $3.00 for each meteorograph returned to their office at Vicksburg, Miss. Professor, please pull down that textbook on calculus and see if we can figure on how many fish can be spawned in 187 acres of water.

Bear in mind, Professor, that we must consider in our calculation some elimination for home sites of those who operate the hatchery, landscape gardening, and all that sort of thing.

INTERESTING NEWS ITEMS OF THE MOVIES AND FILM FOLK IN HOLLYWOOD

CARL LAEMMLE, former head of Universal Pictures, has formed an association of dancing schools which will make shorts, using in the casts, members of the schools. One child will be taken to Hollywood each year. The school in which Shirley Temple was taught has made a fortune by simply mentioning this fact to parents of prospects.

Few novices make the grade, however, for most of the parts are given to established child players. An example of this is the recent replacing of two boys in "The Adventures of Tom Sawyer" by children who were veterans of the movies.

In "Wells Fargo," an old engine built in 1837 will be used. It is a wood-burner known as the "William Galloway" and belongs to the Baltimore and Ohio railroad.

Two of a series of Law Classics have been completed by the Film Foundation of America. They present Joseph Henry Beale, Royal Professor of Law, in half-hour discussions on divorce. The films will be made available not only for law schools but for the legal profession generally.

A film is being prepared based on the Boys' Town in Nebraska which was founded by Rev. Edward Flanagan. Spencer Tracy will have the part of the priest who devotes his life to saving boys.

$12,500,000 Collected
By Secretary of State
For Past Fourteen Months

The biennial report of the Motor Vehicle Commission, copy of which has already been turned in to the Secretary of State, Colonel Howard Dyer, states that his department has collected during the last fourteen months ending June 30th, a total of $12,500,000, in round numbers, in gasoline and oil taxes. The report also shows that the Motor Vehicle Commissioner collects and distributes more taxes than any other department of state government, and that the increase in cash collections, plus the decrease in refunds paid indicates a net increase of 40.27 per cent over 1935, and 28.85 per cent over 1936.

This increase in gas collections has enabled the State to pay off all highway notes provided for highway paving, as they become due, and to call and pay off $668,000 worth of notes before their maturity, thus saving to the state in interest the handsome sum of $463,765.00, and Mr. Dyer states that the gasoline collections indicate that the State will be enabled to call approximately $500,000.00 more of these unmatured highway notes by the first of October, which would mean an additional saving of interest amounting to another $350,000.00.

Work On Fish Hatchery At Lyman To Start Soon

Deed, abstract and map of the site for Coast's long-awaited fish hatchery were mailed to U. S. Fish Commissioner Frank Bell on Monday night of last week, according to an announcement by the Chamber of Commerce of Gulfport.

Secretary B. C. Cox said that the mailing of these papers meant that construction work on the hatchery to be located near Lyman on land given by the Batson-Hatten Lumber Company would probably begin in the near future.

The Lyman site was selected as being ideal by a fish commission inspector who spent several weeks on the Coast earlier this year inspecting all available locations.

At a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce a resolution of appreciation to Senator Pat Harrison and Wade Hatten and the Batson-Hatten Lumber Company for their aid in securing the project was passed. Others instrumental in the securing of the hatchery have been Fish Commissioner Bell, the Gulf Coast Fish Commission headed by John T. Connell and Chamber of Commerce officials.

"WAKE UP AND LIVE" A SHO-WOW, SWELEGANT HOWLARIOUS MUSICAL

Walter Winchell, Ben Bernie and Alice Faye Carry That Famed Feud to Screen in Hotchtopsa Of All Musicals.

In "Wake Up and Live," at the A. & G. Theater Sunday and Monday, with Walter Winchell, Ben Bernie and Alice Faye in the featured roles, Twentieth Century-Fox believes that it has the sweetest, hottest, most glamorous and glorious musical ever turned out by that studio.

Eclipsing even such swelegant musicals as "On the Avenue," "One in a Million" and "Sing, Baby, Sing," this new film musical brings the famed Winchell-Bernie feud to the screen in an eye-filling production that lays strong claim to being the hotchtopsa of them all.

"Wake Up and Live" offers not only the intriguing spectacle of the M.M. Winchell and Bernie feuding face-to-face, but also the singing, dancing and emoting of Alice Faye, lovelier and more affecting than ever; the laugh-provoking antics of Patsy Kelly, Ned Sparks and Jack Haley; and nine smash song hits by those kings of songwriting, Gordon and Revel.

"Wake Up and Live" owes a lot to swelegant song hits turned out by Mack Gordon and Harry Revel, who contributed "Never in a Million Years," "It's Swell of You," "I'm Bubbling Over," "There's a Lull in My Life," "Wake Up and Live," "Ooh But I'm Happy," "I Love You Much Too Much, Muchacha," "Red Seal Mail" and "Bernie's Love Song."

Leah Ray, Joan Davis, Douglas Fowley and Miles Mander also are featured in this lively musical. Curtis Kenyon wrote the original story, based upon Dorothea Brande's book, and Harry Tugend and Jack Yellen (of "Live I News" fame) did the screen play. Daryl F. Zanuck, vice-president in charge of production at Twentieth Century-Fox, chose Sidney Lanfield to direct, with Kenneth Macgowan as associate producer.

LOVE EFFECTS DRESS AND STYLE EXPERT STATES

Kalloch Proves Point in New Virginia Bruce Film.

"A woman is luckier than she imagines when Dan Cupid shoots an arrow into her heart," says Robert Kalloch, head fashion designer for Columbia Studios, for in an effort to please her perfect man she studies herself more carefully than ever before. "This strange alchemy that love inspires has been dramatized in Columbia's 'Women of Glamour,' current attraction at the Gulf Theater, Waveland, Miss., one day only, Sunday, August 8th, in which Virginia Bruce and Mervyn Douglas play the leading roles. Kalloch continues:

"As the picture opens, Miss Bruce is the daring sophisticate of the stage who dresses with flash and lure to attract any audience. But when she meets the man, she quickly discards the gaudy flipperies that have previously made her conspicuous, and she no longer seeks the interest of many men that she may claim one to have and to hold.

"Her thousand curls are combed into one soft roll, her mask of make up is removed to reveal the lovable, human being that she really is, her blood red nail polish fades into light rose.

"The same changes occur in Miss Bruce's wardrobe as she portrays the role of the actress who falls in love. The cold, hard personality of the adventures is definitely portrayed in an evening gown of ice blue shimmering satin with moulded jacket, with snow-flake design of sequins.

"When she falls in love, she casts aside this gown in favor of diaphanous chiffon that subtly conceals the figure in its soft draperies.

"Daytime clothes assume a manly, tailored air and have a tone of smart severity for the woman in love realizes that the feminine frills do not belong on the street, but are a distinct part of the charm of her home life.

Featured in support of Miss Bruce and Douglas in 'Women of Glamour' are Reginald Denry, Leona Maricle, Thurston Hall, Pert Kelton and Mike Mona. Gordon Wiles directed.

PROBLEM.

Some legislation involving personal holding companies seems to be certain, with the probability that deductions allowed will be curtailed and possibly taxes on them increased. One problem is to define personal holding companies
